

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Thursday, July 20

2000

Western European Union group visits Marshall Thursday

Members of the Technological and Aerospace Committee Assembly of the Western European Union will visit Marshall Thursday. The group will visit the Space Station Manufacturing and Assembly Facility, Space Station Mockup, Payload Operations Center and tour the East/West Test Area.

MESA meets at 11:30 a.m., Thursday, Bldg. 4471, room C-105

Hazardous, controlled waste training, 9-11 a.m., Thurs., Morris Auditorium

Dr. Larry DeLucas to discuss biotechnology research Thurs.

Dr. Larry DeLucas, researcher at the University of Alabama at Birmingham and a payload specialist on the 1992 Microgravity Laboratory-1 Mission, will discuss biotechnology research on the International Space Station at 11:30 a.m. Thursday in the Bldg. 4203 cafeteria.

'Moondreams' musical debuts at VBC Thursday

"Moondreams," an original Broadway-style musical written in conjunction with the Von Braun Celebration of the Arts & Sciences, will be presented Thursday through Saturday at the Von Braun Center Concert Hall. Performances are 7:30 p.m. with a 2:30 p.m. matinee on Saturday. For ticket information, call the Von Braun Center box office at 533-1953.

Submit entries by Friday for 40th Anniversary theme to: robert.jaques@msfc.nasa.gov